MEET LYNN PALM...

For more than 40 years Lynn Palm has championed the partnership of horse and rider. An international clinician, she travels extensively from her facilities at Fox Grove Farm in Ocala, FL, to teach the fundamentals of Palm Partnership Training.

Palm is an American Quarter Horse Association (AQHA) approved judge and is the only female four-time World Championship Quarter Horse Show Super Horse rider with 34 World and Reserve World Championships. She holds a record 7 WDAA World Championships and recently earned her USEF R Western Dressage Judge's License.

Ms. Palm was a special guest performer at the 1996 Olympics and was named 2000 AQHA Female Equestrian of the Year by the Women's Sports Foundation. In 2003 she was the recipient of Equine Affaire's Exceptional Equestrian Educator Award, and she was titled Horsewoman of the year in 2007 by the American Quarter Horse Association. In 2010, she presented at the World Equestrian Games as a clinician and entertainer and did the same at the 2017 FEI World Cup Finals in Omaha.

Lynn is also an author who frequently contributes articles to leading equine publications along with her Palm Partners Club. Her extensive educational library of DVDs and Books can be found online.
